IRONTON, MO. - AUGUST 31, 1916

VOLUME L. NUMBER 13.

THAT "empty dinner pail"—O, where it now? Gone where the woodbine twineeth, leaving the little bris mourning and heart-hungry. O, for a restoration of the soup-house, just for the campaign!

CORNELIUS ROACH is a thorough bred. Nothing white man was ever given a rarer deal than Roach got—whipped, double-crossed, flim-flamed and jockeyed to defeat—yet he comes up smiling like the Prince of Americans that he is. There are no sore spots on his anatomy that are on exhibition. And now that it is all over and our motives can not be questioned, we want to say that Cornelius Roach is one of the fairest, whitest men we have ever known in public life. He is faithful, efficient, honest, truthful, dependable, conscientious and everything else a real man should be. And another thing—he knows the meaning of gratitude and never forgets a kindness shown him and that's the rarest virtue in the kingdom of politics.—Kelly Pool in Centralia Courier.

Baptist Assembly.

(Poplar Bluff Citizen-Democrat.)
The annual State Baptist Assembly, in progress at Arcadia Heights ever since August 8, closed Sunday night after one of the most successful sessions in its history.

Unusually large crowds visited the Assembly grounds this year. The Assembly each year grows more popular, each year they more features of entertainment and instruction, and each year the crowds which attend exceed in size those of previous years. This season an unusually attractive program was presented. In addition, the grounds were in splendid shape, and everyone had plenty of healthy amusement. The swimming pool came in for a great deal of use especially.

Numbers of Poplar Bluff people attended the Assembly this year. Many of these have summer cottages there. The majority returned Sunday night and Monday, some making the trip from Arcadia Heights in automobiles. Everyone at the Assembly this year had a splendid time.
During the Assembly the following officers for the coming year were selected: President, W. W. Martin; first vice president, J. D. Evans; second vice president, C. B. Miller; third vice president, F. Abernathy; treasurer, W. J. Smith; corresponding secretary, C. E. Johnson; recording secretary, Pearl Winters.

Annapolis News.

Some rain Saturday and Sunday, but not very much.

I understand the big meeting which had been in progress at the Mann church house on Black river closed Sunday because Rev. Jinkerson was called to his home by the serious illness of some of his people. There were large congregations, day and night, and much interest manifested. There were five conversions the first week and doubtless would have been many more had the meeting continued. It was proposed to have a gathering on the bank of Black river at the close of the meeting, but this was deferred to some future time. Dinner was served on the ground Sunday. Among those who attended from Annapolis were: Gus Funk and family, D. A. Worley and family, Walter Warneke and wife, and many others.

D. A. Worley has returned from Arcadia Heights, where he drove a hack during the Assembly.
John Murphy and Dickey Jackson, both of Iron county, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's father, John L. Jackson, August 26th, 1916, at 8:30 p. m., S. Kitchell, J. P., officiating.

The suits of Dr. E. E. Whiteside vs. Jack and Ben Johnson for doctor bills came up in Square Kitchell's court Saturday, but were continued until September 8th because of absence of witnesses.

John L. Jackson has sold his farm back to John W. Alcorn, of near Leesville, who, it is said, will be our neighbor again some day.

Since writing you last I was called to Hyatt's creek, in Reynolds county, on business. I found corn and other crops looking fine. Have made several six or eight mile trips lately in different directions and found good crops everywhere. People can live in this country for years if the railroad employes should go on a strike. We lived when there were no railroads and fared very well.

Hogs and cattle are scarce here. The high prices have caused them all to be shipped out.

John Pogue of Sinking Creek, near Redford, is hauling some fine square timber—all pine—to town. It looks like old times, but the price is low for such fine timber. Twelve mile haul, $15 a thousand.

E. A. Loyd is about to sell his house, near the hall, to Hartford Collins of Sabela. Consideration, $600.

Hartford Collins loaded a large car of mine props last Friday—near one thousand on the car.

A. Reese loaded out several cars of ties the past week.

Ed Funk had business in Ironton the past week.

James B. Sheldon is improving in health.

Charley Moss, son of Sam Moss, died Monday morning, August 21st, 1916. He had been a sufferer from dropsy for a month. He was laid to rest in the Jos. J. Sutton cemetery, three miles south of Annapolis. The deceased was 22 years of age and leaves father, mother and three brothers to mourn him. Wm. Sutton conducted the services.

Sam Warren of Redford has just got into town with two car loads of fine cattle.

Ed Moss is fitting up some of Chas. E. Bolch's machinery for a saw mill. It will be located in Sugar Tree Hollow, on Hyatt's creek, in Reynolds county, and cut mostly hickory.

The Candidate.

Now consider the candidate. He comes up like a flower and retreats from the race busted. His friends fill him with false hopes and expensive atmosphere. He swelleth like a toad and thinketh "the world is mine, likewise the voters therein." He smelleth on all mankind and stoppeth over with good humor. Yea, he kisseth the children and chisseth a clove when he meeteth a "dry" voter and the preacher. And as he converseth with these in pious tones, he standeth to their leeward and curbeth his breath with a mighty curb. His goeth home at night with cold feet and a beery breath, making weary the heart of his patient wife.

The grafter and moocher lie in wait for him. They pulleth his leg; yea, verily they pulleth both legs. He nulleth a lie but before the election cometh he rinneeth short of nails. He giveth liberally to the church and from the Ladies' Aid he buyeth tanning; he subscribeth to the band. He sendeth a small keg hither and a large one thither, he contributeth money to help the poor family whose barn was burned. He yieldeth up his substance cheerfully.

After election he goeth out behind the barn and kicketh himself. He tearth his hair and calleth himself a Rotterdam fool, likewise an Amsterdam fool. He then returneth to the house and thus addresseth the wife of his bosom:

"Behold a driving idiot; gaze up on a bullet-headed thump who has not sense enough to keep out of the rain." Then his wife smilleth sadly and says in a gentle voice: "Did I not tell you so?"—Exchange.

THE Texas Wonder, a large, ornate wooden structure, possibly a well or a decorative building, is shown in the illustration.

The Tent Annual Holiness Camp meeting will be held at Des Arc, Mo., September 1st to 11th.
